THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Many feel proud about the enormous expansion of education in the country. But is there any reason for feeling pleased with this situation? An unhealthy expansion of education is as undesirable as an unhealthy bloating of the body. Acquiring degrees at great cost and developing contempt for one's parents out of intellectual pride is not a sign of proper education. Humility is the hallmark of true education. Arrogance, envy and ostentation should have no place in a properly educated person! Education without right conduct is of no value. Make full use of what you have learnt, not only for earning a living but also for service to society. Only then will your degrees have any meaning. Whatever job you undertake, wherever you work, you must continue to practice spiritual discipline and aim at Self-realisation. Without a spiritual basis, education is futile. May you all lead exemplary lives, bring happiness to your parents and render help to society! [Divine Discourse, Mar 1, 1981] -BABA
